

Our Neighbors Come First

February 25, 2021

Modern Landfill donates to several local organizations.

YORK, Pa. (Feb. 25, 2021) – Modern Landfill is dedicated to supporting our customers and being a good neighbor in the communities in which we live and work. This includes investing back into the local community.

Over the years, Modern Landfill has supported several local organizations and causes. During these unprecedented times, we are doing all we can to help community groups fulfill their missions.

Among some of our recent local grants, which total $11,500:

- $2,000 to York County Food Bank
- $1,500 to Eastern York Recreation Authority
- $1,000 to Emmanuel UMC of Windsor in Windsor Township
- $1,000 to Eastern York Food Pantry in Lower Windsor Township
- $1,000 to Our Daily Bread Soup Kitchen in York
- $1,000 to Olivia's House in York
- $1,000 to York County Farm and Natural Lands Trust
- $1,000 to Wellington Youth Sports and Recreation in York
- $500 to Golden Knights (Eastern York School District) Football Parents Association
- $500 to Hellam Fire Company
- $500 to Wrightsville Fire Department
- $500 to Golden Connections Community Center in Red Lion

"This grant could not come at a better time," said Heather Goebeler, executive director of Golden Connections Community Center. "We will use this money to continue to provide programs and services to senior citizens living in our community."

"Support like this really makes a difference," said Marion Kinard, executive director of Wellington Youth Sports and Recreation. "With this grant, we can continue with our mission and work to provide even more opportunities and mentorship to help our young people grow up strong, especially with today's current health crisis and ongoing gun violence throughout the United States."

These grants are part of Republic Services' "Committed to Serve" initiative, which is investing $20 million nationally to recognize frontline employees and support small businesses and community groups that power local economies and help neighbors in need.

After nearly 50 years in service, Modern Landfill values its long-term relationship with its neighbors, which is why our local team strives daily to return value to the communities where we operate.

Learn more about the Modern Landfill team at modernlandfillpa.com; click on "Community."